

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

Lincoln Steffens On Rhode Island.
"Rhode Island" is the most astonishing article we have yet seen from Lincoln Steffens' pen. It appears in the February McClure's, and it is headed: "A State for Sale—What Senator Aldrich Represents—A Business Man's Government Founded Upon the Corruption of the People Themselves."

Mr. Steffens brings out the importance of a consideration of Rhode Island politics by calling attention to the prominence of Nelson W. Aldrich, senior United States Senator from Rhode Island, father-in-law of young Mr. Rockefeller, and the supposed representative of Wall Street at Washington, known as "the power behind the throne" in the Senate, Senator Aldrich is a figure whose strength and development contain a message for every one of us. An analysis of that strength, and an astounding revelation of that development. Mr. Steffens gives in his fascinating and dramatic narrative of Rhode Island politics.

Rhode Island ought to be one of our most conservatively governed states. The suffrage is restricted by property qualifications; the balance of power is taken from the cities by a scheme of representation which puts Providence, with 29,000 voters, on an equality with Little Compton, which has 78. Thus the legislature is controlled by the delegates of "the good old American stock out in the country," who surely ought to be trustworthy wielders of citizenship.

As if all this were not enough, Mr. Steffens proceeds with the most startling account we have yet ever read from his pen. How Rhode Island legislation has been made to order; who buys it; who sells it; in what a businesslike way "high financial" methods were employed to get the best price for it from outsiders; how, in short, the dignity and honor of the state have been shamelessly pawned by those who should have guarded it most dearly. Mr. Steffens sets forth with dazzling clearness.

The Real Australian.
Burries Gaban contributes his second article on "The Real Australian" to the February Booklovers Magazine. Tracing the political and social development of the island continent he says: "Australian socialism is a thing entirely different from the sentimental socialism of France or the philosophical socialism of Germany. Reformers here have no theories. They deal in facts in vague generalities about justice, equalities, liberty and the like. On the contrary, they strive only to remedy the wrong that lies stumbling-stone in the path of practical progress. And they remove that stumbling-block in the shortest, surest and boldest way that suggests itself to their matter-of-fact minds."

The Australian Mr. Gaban describes as being "a down-right individual, plain-spoken, even-banded, fair-minded, a hater of shams and no respecter of persons. His life, in the bush at least, makes him resourceful and adventurous, neither daunted by difficulty nor timid of experiment." The remarkable strides which Australia has taken in the direction of practical socialism—woman suffrage, the referendum, old-age pensions, the minimum wage, exclusion of alien and undesirable immigrants—are not merely an aftergrowth of democracy. "From the beginning the governments have owned and operated their railways, telegraphs, and telephones. All the colonies have government banks. In New Zealand there is government insurance against fire and death. And now the government have undertaken to protect the community against strikes and lockouts, much as you protect yourself against strikes and lockouts and high-way robbery. Mr. Gaban goes on to trace in an interesting manner, the rise of the Labor party, which culminated in making a journey map printer the present premier of the continent. "Social distinction counts for little in business and nothing in politics. Australian air is too free to permit this growth."

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
"DeWitt's is the only Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use."

Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, New York, says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by Crenshaw & Young, Druggists.

His Girl Told Him.
The other day Professor F. B. Mumford of the Missouri Agricultural College distributed slips among his Short Course students and asked them to write briefly their reasons for coming to the college. Editors, teachers, and parents received the credit from most of them but one fellow, wishing to bestow honor where honor is due, wrote this reply: "I got it from going with a country girl. She told me I ought."

This is a luxurious, pleasure-loving age. We crave material comforts. This appetite grows by what it feeds on. It continuously demands fresh sensations, and becomes so pampered that it loses all taste for pure rational enjoyment. Children lose the enthusiasm of youth so early. Wonder, the beginning of wisdom, dies out soon. Rev. D. J. Dorchester.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—Dr. G. G. Gass.

QThe aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

QThere is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Bocher's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

QIt is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

QBut no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

Belgium is Liberal.
Belgium has presented her entire exhibit in Agricultural Education at the World's Fair to the University of Missouri, and it is now being shipped to Columbia. Argentine Republic, Egypt, England, and Germany also made large gifts to the University. All these gifts will be put with those donated by the Missouri Commission, thus forming one of the largest permanent educational exhibits in the west.

TONIC TO THE SYSTEM.
For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore of LaFayette, Ind., says, "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by Crenshaw & Young, Druggists. 1-7ml

Melice, ill will and hate are emotions that we cannot afford to harbor in the breast. No one will cherish these sentiments toward any large number of his fellowmen, but we cannot afford to cherish them for an hour against anyone. Hate kills the highest bloom of the soul. The highest self can no more thrive in the soul that cherishes these sentiments than orange trees can thrive in Labrador.—Rev. G. B. Vosburgh.
